Law No. 408 of October 2, 2000

Law of Mental Health of Puerto Rico

ORDER OF TEMPORARY DETENTION SO THAT THE PATIENT MAY BE EVALUATED BY A PSYCHIATRIST

After having weighed the evidence offered by the petitioner, the Tribunal finds reasonable grounds to believe that FRANCISCO J. NAVARRO PACHECO can be subject to an involuntary admission for evaluation, treatment and hospitalization under the provisions of the Mental Health Law of Puerto Rico, and for the purpose of determining whether this may be improper, we order the director of the Hospital of Psychiatry of the Medical Center of Puerto Rico or of any private psychiatric hospital or psychiatrist of these offices to personally examine the aforementioned patient and determine if he should be admitted immediately and involuntarily to the psychiatric institution.

This patient cannot be maintained in the institution for more than twenty-four (24) hours to effectuate the evaluation, observation, and initiation of the treatment. This order will be invalid within three days of its date of issuance. Any mental health institution or facility which institutionalizes or maintains a patient institutionalized without meeting hospitalization standards will incur a misdemeanor, according to the provisions of Article 15.03 of Law No. 408 of October 2, 2000, known as the Mental Health Law of Puerto Rico.

Trabajando con la comunidad Centroamericana en Massachusetts

If on the basis of the psychiatrist's evaluation, in consultation with an interdisciplinary or multidisciplinary team, it is determined that the patient must continue hospitalized for a period of more than twenty-four (24) hours, he must issue a certification with such a determination and send it to the undersigned judge in the period of twenty-four (24) hours. He must advise the petitioner, or the representative of the institution, whoever applies, to appear at the tribunal with said certification to request an order of involuntary admission for a maximum of fifteen (15) days, in accordance with the provisions of Article 4.14 of the aforementioned law.

If the psychiatrist, in consultation with the interdisciplinary or multidisciplinary team, determines that the patient does not meet the standards for hospitalization, he will be immediately discharged and will be referred to another level of care, should it be necessary, and the tribunal will be notified of this determination and the pertinent recommendations within a period of no more than seventy-two (72) hours.

The costs or expenses of the patient's admission to a hospital or private institution will be the responsibility of the petitioner and not that of the General Tribunal of Justice.

This order will be sufficient for any agent of public order or security agent to detain and lead the patient to the designated hospital so that what is ordered here is fulfilled.

Issued in Bayamon, Puerto Rico on February 15, 2004.

Hector Velazquez Hernandez
Municipal Judge

I certify that I personally served a copy of this order on the petitioner.
